

How to Find & Use Ready-Made Questions

Writing quiz questions can be time-consuming and complex, even for experienced writers. ProProfs's "Suggest Me Questions" feature gives you instant access to millions of public questions from our question bank. Plus, with 100,000+ existing templates in our Quiz Library, creating quizzes on the fly is easy.

Before we get started, here's a video overview for creating quizzes using question banks.

Skipped the video? No problem, learn it step-by-step.

For example, if you're creating a quiz on sales, you can get results by searching for keywords in the "Add Question" panel.

Using ready-to-use yet customizable questions becomes helpful:

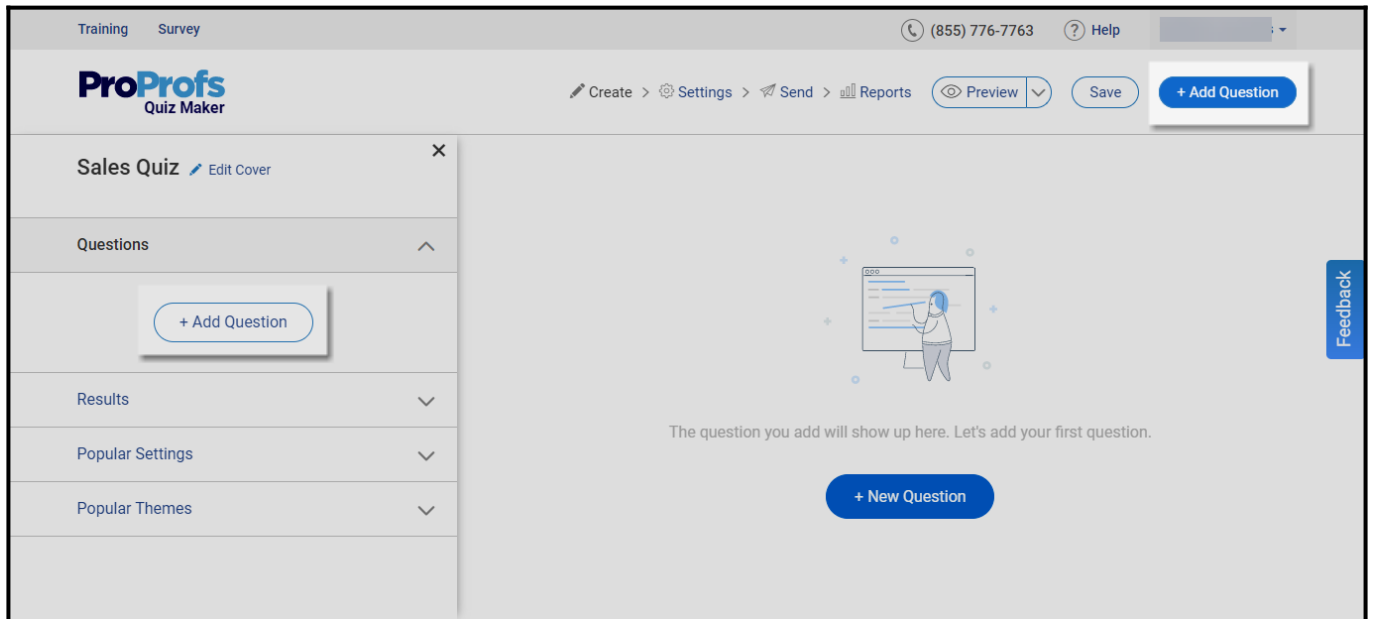

- When you're creating your first quiz
- When you're running short on time, or
- When you're looking for ideas for your quiz

There are two ways in which you can find ready-to-use questions:

1. Search for questions using the "Suggest Me" function
2. Use an existing quiz template

Using “Suggest Me”

Step 1: Navigate to Add Question in the editor.

Step 2: Search the keyword to find questions about your quiz topic.

The following screenshot shows results for the keyword “sales.”
